

LOVE IS THE BOAT

Lyrics by Anne Hills • Music Allen Power

Love is the boat that holds us love is where we are made love finds a way through any wall shines through the deepest shade love is a boundless prairie hides in the wildest seed waters the fields and in times of loss love is the balm we need soft as a downy feather stronger than tempered steel sit in the seat of the homeless man love cooks and serves his meal infinite, wise, eternal striving to hold us near never defined by you or me we think it's gone, love is always here
